You Are Never Alone Gary Champion

At a very early age I felt like someone was always watching me even though I could not see them. At the age of six when I became a medium I realized that I was right. I'm never alone when eating at a restaurant. I'm never alone in the shower. I'm never alone when using the bathroom. I'm never alone when I am in a building alone or with others. I am always surrounded by those who have passed that I might have known or may have never met. At first it's kind of creepy and then you get used to it. As a child when I first became a medium I discovered that I was mostly all right with it. In the first part of this book I will be expressing my opinions on a variety of subjects. There will be very little if any scientific evidence to support these opinions. Those who look for provable repeatable scientific information in the metaphysical realm are simply wasting their time. Everything written about the other side is speculation of some sort. Those who say they absolutely know what's going on there are probably making it up. Until someone passes and comes back what we are left with is what you feel see or hear. Some feel see and hear a lot and others experience very little. The world is a very large place and this book is just my little part of it for now anyway. Included are some transcriptions of events taken from videos shot at the time.
