The Preparatory Guide is designed to meet the requirements of the candidates preparing for the next generation of medical postgraduate entrance examinations beyond 2012-the examinations with newer formats like DNB. Not underestimating the role of most standard textbooks and emphasizing the importance of reading standard textbooks to imbibe core knowledge, this guide stimulates the reader to assimilate all the knowledge he/she has gained and transform it into a successful score. The book will greatly help the students in improving their scores substantially and meeting the challenges of examinations by putting their preparation ahead of the examiner vision. Additional sections on clinical figures, histological slides, identification of clinical cases, radiographs, etc. are given for the new pattern of conceptual studies likely to be asked in the examinations. The variety of questions given provides a broad base for testing the basic and core knowledge of the reader with standard texts taken as reference.
